

- Bottom-up, fundamental value investing philosophy. Inspired by Warren Buffett.
- Long-only portfolio. No leverage. Primarily/only equities. Rare short positions.
- The fund focuses on:
 1. Neglected Micro & Small Cap Securities
 2. Contrarian Investments (any market cap size, incl. large caps)
 3. Event-Driven Special Situations & Arbitrages (minor area of focus)
- What I look for: Good, proven business with long track record and strong balance sheet trading below my estimate of intrinsic underlying business value, as a result of:
 - Out of favor on Wall Street due to non-rational factors (overreaction, too boring, et al), but undervalued based on sound fundamental investment analysis, or
 - Neglected by professional investors because of too low liquidity, technical (arbitrary) constraints, small size, or other special factors. Little/no competition.
- Highly focused portfolio:
 - Typically 10-20 investments
 - Much deeper, more thorough research and analysis on each investment
 - Can really focus our capital in the very best opportunities → Higher returns
 - Intelligent diversification. Avoid di-worse-sification.
- Unconstrained mandate: Highly flexible and opportunistic. Invest in many different market cap sizes, industries, and countries (mostly U.S. and other developed markets).
- Not a top-down approach: Allocation among individual stocks, industries and countries varies considerably, based on where the best opportunities are. Bottom-up approach.
- I define risk as permanent loss of capital, not volatility. I seek to profit from volatility, not avoid it. Therefore, the fund is only suitable for very long-term oriented investors.
- I have 100% of my own investable assets, aside from prudent rainy day reserves of cash and cash equivalents, invested in the fund.

There is no assurance that similar results will be achieved. The "MSCI AC World" index referred to above refers to the version of the MSCI All-Country World Index, including net dividends and stated in local currency terms, that can be located under the symbol MSEIACLN on the Bloomberg Professional Service terminal. In November 2024, the fund's (the "partnership's") fee structure was changed to 0% management fee and 20% incentive allocation (aka performance fee). Accordingly, the investment returns presented in this document were changed to reflect the returns that an investor who invested at the inception of the partnership (and has not made any subsequent contributions or withdrawals) would have earned after subtraction of fees, based on the 0% management fee and 20% incentive allocation that is now in effect. The historical net returns based on the partnership's historical fees can be found in the investor presentation, which is available upon request. While the fund generally does not use leverage, it may be used in the discretion of the general partner, for example for arbitrage and other special situations, potentially with offsetting short positions. The fund may also invest in warrants or options and borrow securities for short sale. The fund sometimes hedges foreign currency risk of non-U.S. investments, sometimes using currency futures. This document does not constitute an offer to sell, or a solicitation of an offer to buy the limited partnership interests described herein. No such offer or solicitation will be made prior to the delivery of an offering memorandum and other materials relating to the matters mentioned herein. Before making an investment decision with respect to the partnership, potential investors are advised to read carefully the offering memorandum, limited partnership agreement and the related subscription documents, and to consult with their tax advisors, financial advisors and legal counsel. This document contains a preliminary summary of the purpose of the partnership and principal business terms of the partnership. This summary does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the more detailed discussion contained in the offering memorandum and the actual text of the limited partnership agreement. All investors and potential investors should be aware that an investment in a partnership of this nature is a speculative investment and may be subject to extreme volatility.
